Favorite quote: "It is not the critic who counts! It is not the man who points out where the strong man stumbled or the doer of deeds could have done better! The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena...whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood...who strives valiantly yet errs and falls short again and again, for what great effort is there without error or shortcoming...who knows the great passions the great enthusiasms, who spends himself in a worth cause..... and who in the end at best knows the triumph of high achievement and at worst... if he fails...at least he fails while daring greatly...so that his place shall never be among those cold and timid souls that know neither victory nor defeat." – T. Roosevelt
